PARK HORROR AS GIRL DIES

Parents' heartbreak at death of Summer, 7, in funfair tragedy

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE heartbroken parents of the young girl who died after a bouncy castle was blown 150 yards across Harlow Town Park by a strong gust of wind have paid a moving tribute to their "beautiful angel".

Seven-year-old Summer Grant was seriously injured in the accident at the funfair on Saturday afternoon.

She was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital where medics battled in vain to save her life.

Summer lived with her mum, Cara Blackie, and younger sister, Lily, in Norwich, but was visiting her dad, Lee, during the Easter break. He said: "She was the most happy, polite and beautiful girl in the world. I still can't come to terms she's not here."

Her mum said: "Summer was a bright beautiful and most loving little girl. It is so unfair that she has been taken. It just doesn't make sense."

Police immediately launched an investigation into the causes of the accident and arrested two people on suspicion of manslaughter by gross negligence. They have been released on bail.

Saturday's tragedy was the second accident involving a giant inflatable at a funfair in the Town Park in the past 12 months. Last year three children were injured when a bouncy castle suddenly deflated.

State of shock

Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner said the whole town had been left in a state of shock while MP Robert Halfon questioned whether there should be a ban on bouncy castles at fairs in the town until it can be proved they were "completely safe".

Members of the Spotted in Harlow Facebook group will be lighting a candle for Summer at 8pm on Saturday while donations to fundraising pages set up in her memory had topped £12,000 as the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

VICTIM: Hassan Abdi Mohamed

Teenage boy arrested on suspicion of killing man

DETECTIVES investigating the fatal stabbing of a man in Harlow three weeks ago have arrested a 15-year-old boy on suspicion of murder.

The teenager, who lives in north London, was taken into custody by police in Holloway on Tuesday afternoon.

He was arrested on suspicion of murder and possession of class A drugs. As the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday) he was still being questioned.

The youth is the second person to be arrested in connection with the death earlier this month of father-of-two Hassan Abdi Mohamed.

Collapsed

An 18-year-old man, also from north London, was arrested on suspicion of murder and remains on bail until May 17 while the police investigation continues.

Mr Mohamed, 48, was found collapsed on a cycle path leading from Southern Way to Pyenest Road, close to Holly Field, on the morning of Saturday, March 5. He had been stabbed in the chest and later died of his injuries.

Police are continuing to appeal for information about the circumstances leading up to the stabbing.

■ Anyone who can help is asked to call the Harlow Major Incident Team on the non-emergency 101 number or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Back in the saddle for charity bike challenge

Brothers hope pedal power will raise thousands for Kisses4kids

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO brothers are gearing up for a 550-mile cycle ride to raise money for the charity which has provided support for their family.

Ben Lewsey, of Potter Street, Harlow, and his brother Dan, from Ware, are hoping to raise thousands of pounds for Kisses4kids, which organises treats for children with life-limiting and terminal illnesses.

Ben, 26, said the charity has been "fantastic," in helping him and his partner, Victoria, look after their daughter Skye, who was born with a genetic disorder which affects the cells of the body.

The four-year-old, who cannot walk and struggles to communicate, has a limited life expectancy.

"We are trying to put a positive spin on things," said Ben, who also has a one-year-old son, Harrison. "Kisses4kids is such a great charity and have been a massive support."

"They raised a lot of money to take

The pair will set off from Ware on July 24 and hope to reach Inverness on August 2, averaging about 80 miles a day for nine days with one rest day.

"We did a ride to Land's End a couple of years ago but this is much bigger and we are doing double the distance," said Ben.

"We will ride some of the highest and toughest roads in Britain and we will be on mountain bikes the whole way, which will make it even more of a challenge for us."

Ben, who is currently a full-time carer for Skye, became a panel member for Kisses4kids after the Land's End ride and hopes to match the £4,500 raised on that occasion.

Children handed eggs-tra treats in Easter giveaway

HUNDREDS of chocolate eggs were given away to children as part of Easter celebrations in the Water Gardens on Saturday.

The centre teamed up with Asda to hand out 1,000 eggs to youngsters during the day. There was also a chance to stroke lambs and rabbits from Pets' Corner while youngsters also got the opportunity to have their faces painted free of charge.

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy said: "It was a really successful day despite the bad weather."

"We would like to thank Asda for making the event possible as well as our shoppers for visiting us over the Easter weekend."

Expect thorough inquiry into bouncy castle death

Detective says investigation into accident will be complex

Ken Morley

star@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE police officer leading the investigation into Saturday's funfair tragedy in Harlow Town Park has said it will be a lengthy and complex inquiry.

Seven-year-old Summer Grant suffered fatal injuries when a bouncy castle on which she was playing was blown across the park by a strong gust of wind.

She was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital but died shortly afterwards.

A post-mortem examination on Sunday established the cause of death as multiple injuries.

Detective Inspector Daniel Stoten, of the Kent and Essex Serious Crime Directorate, said weather conditions, the weight of the ride, the state of the ground, moisture content and how the bouncy castle was tethered would all be examined.

Weather

"The weather will certainly make up part of this investigation – whether it was a factor and if it was appropriate for the ride to be running," said DI Stoten.

"It will be a complex and thorough investigation. I do not anticipate this to be a quick inquiry – it will be a lengthy investigation."

As part of the investigation, police are asking anyone who took photos or video footage of the incident to contact them.

He added: "This is a very tragic incident where a young girl has lost her life. We are trying to establish the circumstances surrounding how the girl came to be injured and I urge anyone who was at the event and witnessed the incident to contact me."

One witness told the Daily Mirror: "It was a freak accident – the thing just flew at least 15ft straight up over the caravans, flipped and just kept on going down the park."

"It must have been blown more than 400 metres at least. We thought it was never going to stop."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon called for an immediate inquiry into the causes of the tragedy.

"This is the second dangerous incident involving a bouncy castle in Harlow within a year," he said.

"I will be asking the relevant authorities to start an urgent inquiry as to how this tragedy happened and to find out who is responsible, especially given events last year, and to consider whether bouncy castles such as this should be banned from Harlow town fairs until we can be sure they are completely safe, so such a horrific tragedy never happens again."

Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner said the town had been left in a state of shock by Saturday's events, adding the authority would work closely with the Health and Safety Executive and the Great Parndon Community Association, which organised the funfair, to find out exactly what happened.

Heartache

"I can't imagine the heartache of the parents and family of the little girl who has died and my thoughts are with them," he said.

The Thurston family, which operated the bouncy castle, released a statement in which they said: "The whole Thurston family as well as the entire fairground community are thinking of Summer's family at this terrible time. Our prayers are with them and they can rest assured we will make sure we find out how this terrible incident occurred."

Two people arrested on suspicion of manslaughter by gross negligence have been released on police bail while the inquiry continues. The 24-year-old woman and 27-year-old man, both from Cambridgeshire, must report back on May 4.

■ Anyone with information about the incident should contact DI Stoten on 0300 333 4444 and quote incident number 737 of March 26 or email sdc.appeals@essex.pnn.police.uk. Alternatively, call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Summer's parents pay tribute to the most loving little girl

THE parents of Summer Grant paid the following tributes to their daughter.

Mum Cara Blackie said: "Words just can't explain how I am feeling right now, life is just truly cruel."

"Summer was a bright, beautiful and the most loving little girl. It is so unfair that you have been taken. It just doesn't make sense. I'm truly heartbroken."

Dad Lee Grant said: "I never thought our beautiful angel would be taken away from us or that we would outlive her."

"She was the most happy, polite and beautiful girl in the world. I still can't come to terms she's not here. We all love you so, so much – you will always be with us. Love you to the moon and back, all our love Daddy, Mummy and family xxxx."

Douglas Dale, headteacher at Valley Primary School in Hellesdon

where Summer was a pupil, described her as an amazing girl and a source of inspiration to everyone she came in contact with.

"Her smile and the trademark flowers in her hair brightened up every day at school," he said. "She had such a love of life."

"Summer's unique, gentle nature makes her untimely death all the more cruel and difficult to comprehend."

Leaving EU is senseless

SIR Less than 20 years after the First World War ended, Germany under Hitler was rearming to reverse its defeat. Hence the Second World War in which, once again, many millions died.

The basic reason why this did not happen after the Second World War is that the nations of western Europe agreed to co-operate together in what became the European Union. As a result, we have had 71 years of peace in western Europe – the longest in modern history – with millions alive who might have died in war.

To break away from the EU when we desperately need it to keep the peace, to tackle climate change, to help defend us against international crime and terrorism and to stand up to multi-national companies which evade tax and work against British interests by operating from abroad would be senseless.

Of the money we pay into the EU, about a third comes back to us in grants. The total cost, about £7bn a year, is a small fraction of our GDP and benefits all member states including Britain.

Cleaner beaches, limits on working time, maternity and parental leave, guaranteed minimum paid leave etc stem from the EU.

The European Commission is not a free agent but subject to European governments and the European Parliament, which we elect. From within we can and should work to change it for the better.

Appalled by state of roads

SIR In his letter published in the Star on March 17, Councillor Mike Danvers referred to the boneshakers of Victorian times and compared the experience of riding such crude devices with the current horrors experienced by today's motorists and cyclists in Harlow.

As an almost direct descendant of those intrepid riders, I totally concur with Cllr Danvers' criticism of Essex County Council. I would go further and state that not only does ECC neglect our local roads – just try cycling or driving along Minchen Road – but they seem to be unaware that we have a network of cycle tracks and that they are responsible for their maintenance just as much as the roads.

Apart from the resurfacing of the cycle track from the heliport (junction of Second Avenue and Third Avenue) to Staple Tye a few years ago – a distance of 1.2 miles and it only needed local patching – no effort has been made to repair or resurface cycle tracks in years.

I would guess the tracks along Katherines Way and Haydens Road have never been repaired in their lifetime, which could be in excess of 40 years... and it shows.

As a cyclist who uses both the cycle network and roads in Harlow, I am, like Cllr Danvers, appalled at the state of our roads. As a cyclist I know that it is downright dangerous in places, and that this hazardous situation is greatly magnified after dark.

So come on Essex County Council, you've done some good work recently in repairing our country lanes so why neglect our town?

Poor support for residents

SIR I am chairman of the Neighbourhood Action Panel and Great Parndon Residents' Association. Members meet every six weeks, which is not a considerable amount.

We are informed about The Big Society and how all agencies want volunteers but when are we going to get some support? Residents associations across Harlow are closing down. Does the council want this to happen?

We do not have any funding for our meetings but are lucky to have a venue that is free of charge. If this was not so we would have to fold.

We used to have councillors who attended every meeting but now we seem to be very poorly supported. We changed our meeting day because we clashed with council meetings but the attendance has not improved.

I asked our committee if, because of the lack of support, we should terminate the association. They said no but would like councillors to attend.

One of the reasons for asking

Link road is a short-term fix

SIR We have formed a new campaign group in Old Harlow to oppose the M11 junction 7A/Gilden Way link. It is led by local residents and enjoys cross-party support.

Our mission is to campaign for a long-term solution to resolve Harlow's congestion problems and explain why this proposed link is a bad idea. Only when the community is united under a single cause can we deliver real change for the better.

Plans to build a Gilden Way link are best described as nothing more than a short-term fix that fails to tackle growing traffic congestion at peak time hours across Harlow. We believe that a northern route forms a central part of the real solution to the town's growing traffic problems, providing both a northern access and a bypass.

The cost of a northern route would be substantial but there is a clear strategic case to invest time in sourcing the money to deliver such a scheme.

A northern route would address both Essex and Hertfordshire County Councils' road traffic problems in this corner of the East of England. The sheer scale of housing development on the border of both counties means that a case for this route is growing rapidly.

To aid the growth of our local economy and reduce traffic congestion across Harlow we need to invest in a long-term road improvement strategy that will strengthen our community, not divide it.

We urge residents, businesses and councillors from across Harlow to join our campaign.

What a waste of our money

SIR Last year the council dug over a trodden path at the corner of Fourth Avenue and Hamstel Road. The area was fenced off and re-seeded.

Immediately the public walked next to the fence making a new path. The fence was then taken down and the path grew wider.

Was this not a complete waste of taxpayers' money as nothing has been achieved? Obviously people will take the shortest route so why not lay a Tarmac path and be done with it?

Hospital care was fantastic

SIR With trepidation I went into Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow for keyhole surgery on my shoulder.

I received fantastic care from start to finish during my stay. They were busy but had time to allay my fears and reassure me. The mood was cheerful and helpful at all times and always professional.

I unfortunately had a bit of a reaction to the anaesthetic so had to be admitted to a ward for the night, which was no trouble. I had a lovely comfortable room with care and attention all night up until my release in the morning.

PAH gets its fair share of bad press so I wanted to have my say. I had such a positive experience – a big thank-you to the hospital.

Contribute to birthday book

SIR It is remarkable that as her 90th birthday approaches, the Queen is still working so passionately for our country and supporting the work of hundreds of charitable organisations.

In recognition of her incredible efforts, I would invite Star readers to be part of an historic online commemoration at www.TheQueensBirthdayBook.com.

The Queen's Birthday Book will form a huge digital collection of messages, photos and film to mark Her Majesty's special day on April 21. Anyone can contribute for free by adding their birthday messages and personal stories of meeting the Queen, and they can also share photos and videos of their street parties and celebrations for her official birthday in June.

As well as a great digital archive for future generations to look back on, we've created this book to raise vital funds for the charities of which the Queen is patron.

I do hope people will join me in wishing Her Majesty a very happy 90th birthday by sharing their messages, photos, drawings and videos, while also helping to raise money for some very deserving causes.

Bear buddies helping to promote the Midnight Walk

TWO bears are better than one when it comes to persuading people to sign up for this year's Midnight Walk in Harlow.

For joining St Clare Hospice mascot Clare Bear to promote the event is Barnesy, the four-pawed mascot of event sponsors Barnes and Partners.

Founder and senior partner

BEAR HUGS: Mascots Clare and Barnesy with Nigel Barnes of Midnight Walk sponsors Barnes and Partners and Amy Jacobs, corporate partnerships manager for St Clare Hospice

Nigel Barnes said: "As a local firm dedicated to serving families in our community we are delighted to be able to help our local hospice."

"Like St Clare, we help families at those big moments in their lives – buying a house, getting married and making a will – and are committed to serving our customers. We are proud to support the incredible work of St Clare and to help them to care for local families now and in the future."

St Clare chief executive Tanya Curry said: "We are delighted that Barnes and Partners has chosen to support our most important community event.

"Both our organisations have family at the heart of what we do, and Midnight Walk is all about showing our support to local families and their loved ones."

The Midnight Walk, which is supported by the Star, takes place on Saturday, July 2, starting and finishing at the Water Gardens in the town centre at 11pm. Registration will start at 9pm and there will be a warm-up dance routine from PureGym and Clubbercise Harlow.

Walkers can take their pick from a 5km or 10km route and are being encouraged to dress for the neon-themed event which organisers hope will raise at least £60,000.

Tickets are now on sale and cost £20 for adults (16 years and above) and £10 for children (11-15 years).

To register online visit stclarehospice.org.uk/event/midnight-walk-2016/ or call St Clare's challenge and events fundraiser Jade Clarke on (01279) 773756. ## Motorcyclist airlifted to hospital after accident

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE wife of a motorcyclist who was airlifted to hospital after suffering serious chest injuries in a road accident in Harlow has this week thanked emergency services for saving his life.

Michael Inns, 50, had been travelling back from his job in London and had nearly arrived at his home in Harlow when the accident happened.

He was riding on the stretch of the A414 between Gilden Way and Church Langley Way shortly before 8am last Wednesday when he was in collision with a van.

Paramedics were called but Mr Inns' injuries were so severe that the air ambulance was sent to the scene to take him to the Royal London Hospital in Whitechapel.

The road was closed for several hours while police carried out accident investigation work.

Mr Inns, who works as a close protection officer, is expected to stay in hospital for at least another few days while he recovers.

His wife Lisa, 44, said: "I heard what had happened on the radio."

"He was on his way back from London and he was pretty much close to home."

"He cracked seven ribs, his spleen was perforated and his lungs needed attention."

The couple have five children – three sons aged 26, 24 and 21 and two daughters aged 15 and nine.

The hospital managed to successfully treat his spleen on Thursday (March 24).

Mrs Inns added: "He was wearing reflective clothing and leathers while his bike his bright green. He was extremely visible."

"I want to say thank you to the ambulance staff because if it was not for them I do not know what might have happened. The police were great, too."

■ Anyone who witnessed the accident is asked to contact the Chigwell Road Policing Unit on the non-emergency 101 number.

Hair-chop trio donate their locks to children's wig charity and raise £500

THREE women have donated a combined 39 inches of their hair to a charity which provide wigs for youngsters being treated for cancer.

Gib Homhuan, Jen Udarak and Somdee Neale also raised £500 in their sponsored snip at the Tesco store in Church Langley.

Store checkout manager and former hairdresser Donna Cushway, 44, of Abbotswood, Harlow, said: "It went really well. I cut off their pony tails in the customer service area at the front of the shop. A few customers stopped to watch us and they looked a bit surprised."

"My friend Gib approached me to do it and I thought it would be a good idea to raise money for charity. She was joined by Jen and Somdee."

Half of the money raised will go to the Little Princess Trust, while the remainder will go to Diabetes UK and the British Heart Foundation. Their locks will be donated to the Little Princess Trust, which provides real hair wigs to children who have lost their own during cancer treatment.

Mrs Cushway added: "The money was donated by friends, family and passing customers. Tesco supports these charities anyway and I thought it was a nice thing to do."

Five charged after assault

FIVE men from Harlow have been charged with causing grievous bodily harm following an assault in Harlow town centre last year.

The victim, a 19-year-old man, was attacked near Cash Concepts in Market Square on Friday, September 4.

Daniel Lockett, 20, Luke Martin, 18, Jordan Hinton, 18, Craig Quennell, 20, and Luke Quennell, 18, are accused of causing grievous bodily harm with intent.

They have all been released on police bail to appear at Chelmsford Magistrates Court next month.

Old photos plea

AN appeal has been made for old photographs of North Weald Parish to form part of an exhibition charting 100 years of flying at the village airfield.

North Weald Bassett Parish Council wants images for a display at the Airfield Community Day on Sunday, July 17.

Anyone willing to loan pictures of North Weald, Hastingwood or Thornwood Common can take them to the parish council office at North Weald Library.

William Mata

THE bells at an Old Harlow church will soon be ringing out loud and clear once again after they were taken away for repair.

The congregation at St Mary and St Hugh Church in Churchgate Street has welcomed back the bells which were removed and taken back to the Whitechapel Bell Foundry in east London.

Tune

Church warden Ian Woollams said: "The bells were almost impossible to ring. They were out of tune and very stiff; the bell ringing team could hardly ring them at all."

The church building dates back to the 12th century. The bells were installed in 1883 where they have remained until they were taken down in January.

"They swing backwards and forwards much more easily and we are hoping they will sound as they did 150 years ago.

"The congregation has not heard them yet because they are still being put in but the bell foundry staff have practiced them and they said they were sounding fantastic."

Money to repair the bells was raised through grants and a generous donation from one family.

The bells were returned on the back of a large lorry which stopped outside Churchgate Street Primary School to give the pupils a chance to see them.

Mr Woollams said: "The lorry pulled stopped outside the school and the children saw it. They did drawings and took pictures.

"The foundry has been doing all the work to install them. They have had to raise them into the tower through hatches using a series of winches.

"We need to make sure the bells are working and in tune. It might take them another week or more to get them set up."

Police officer given final written warning

HARLOW: A police officer has been issued with a final written warning after it was found she had breached the standards of behaviour in relation to confidentiality, orders and instructions.

A misconduct hearing chaired by Assistant Chief Constable Steve Worrton was told PC Julie Willis, who was stationed at Harlow, had accessed police computer systems to view confidential information about three individuals for personal reasons between May 2005 and July 2011.

ACC Worrton said: "PC Willis is an experienced officer who must have known that accessing information systems without a policing purpose would be likely to result in gross misconduct proceedings."

Surprise for travellers

HARLOW: Rush hour rail passengers travelling from Harlow Town station got an early Easter surprise on Thursday in the shape of a free chocolate egg.

Staff at the station helped to put a spring in the step of busy commuters by handing out the sweet treats.

The Easter giveaways saw hundreds of rail customers receive the free gift.

Abellio Greater Anglia's area customer service manager Kevin Walton said: "We wanted to show our regular commuters our appreciation and wish them a Happy Easter."

Ice cream bar opens

HARLOW: A new American-style cafe serving ice creams, waffles, sundaes, crepes and milkshakes has opened in the town centre.

Creams has taken over the former Robert Dyas shop in Harvey Centre Approach and is open every day from 9am-9pm.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, officially opened the premises on Thursday.

Electrical fire at cafe

HARLOW: Firefighters were called to a cafe in Cawley Hatch early on Sunday morning after a fire broke out.

Fire crews used breathing apparatus and two hose reels to tackle the flames and a fan to clear smoke from the premises.

It is believed the fire was caused by an electrical fault.

THERE were plenty of Easter activities to put smiles on the faces of children and parents at the Harvey Centre in Harlow on Saturday.

They included a mini zoo featuring some of the animals from Paradise Wildlife Park including rabbits, ducklings and a little hedgehog as well as a chocolate craft workshop and face painters. There were also giveaways and competitions for shoppers to enter.

The Easter bunny also hopped in to add some further magic to the celebrations.

Protest group formed over new M11 junction

Residents believe there is an alternative way to ease congestion

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertssexnews.co.uk

A GROUP of residents have launched a campaign against plans to build a new M11 junction off Gilden Way in Harlow.

Some 29 residents have signed a letter to the Star calling for a long-term solution to solve the town's congestion problems.

"Plans to build a junction 7A-Gilden Way link are best described as nothing more than a short-term fix that fails to tackle growing traffic congestion at peak time hours across Harlow," the letter reads.

The proposed junction 7A is designed to ease congestion around the current M11

PROTEST: Residents supporting a bypass junction 7. This would transform the B road Gilden Way in Old Harlow into a major route under the 15-year plan.

The campaigners, who are supported by councillors from both Labour and Conservative parties, believe a northern bypass is crucial to address congestion now and in the future.

County councillor Mike Danvers said: "We're not just protesting about this, we're actively looking at alternatives. The existing junction 7 could be dramatically reconfigured without all the unnecessary upheaval for the residents of Churchgate Street and Old Harlow."

"We believe that there are alternatives particularly a northern bypass of Harlow, and with the development in Harlow North better communication is essential."

The campaigners also believe the scale of housing development gives weight to the case for a northern bypass.

Councillor Joel Charles added: "I think it's important we listen to the concerns of these residents. I believe there are alternative solutions."

The letter concludes: "To aid the growth of our local economy and reduce traffic congestion across Harlow, we need to invest in a long-term road improvement strategy that will strengthen our community, not divide it."

"We urge residents, businesses and councillors from across Harlow to join our campaign."

Filming begins for TV channel based in Essex

YOPEY winner spearheads broadcasting project

Sam Balls

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TELEVISION crew has moved in to a secret location as filming begins for a unique new channel dubbed Essex TV.

Expected to hit screens on Sky in early 2018, Essex TV will launch online next month and its content will include current affairs and entertainment programmes made exclusively by Essex people for Essex people.

The man behind the project – 23-year-old Matthew Martino, of Spinning Wheel Mead, Harlow – said he conceived the idea in June last year and is keen to move away from The Only Way Is Essex stereotype.

"I can assure readers we won't be showing Joey Essex 24/7," he said. "That's the type of show we want to pull away from."

"We want to create a localised hub for entertainment, news and current affairs and our intention is to highlight local talent and also to encourage businesses across the county to get involved."

"At the moment we're busy shooting promotional videos and we just hope we can share something special about what makes Essex what it is."

"We understand that we're not going to grow overnight but eventually we want to create short films and mini-series like you see on Netflix, but first we need the commercial side to take off."

Matthew, who last November was named Essex Young Person of the Year at the annual YOPEY awards, said Essex TV is consortium-backed and he has already spent £75,000 on filming equipment and securing a studio location. It employs three cameramen and two editors and has a budget of £1.2m for the eventual launch on Sky.

"We will bid for tender with the Electronic Programme Guide for a channel on Sky in the next 12 to 18 months," he said, "but for now the digital market is very popular."

"It's important for me to highlight that film-makers need exposure and I hope we can provide the creative platform that the county's bright minds need to flourish."

"We've recently shot a short piece about agricultural machinery at a farm in Writtle and we've also done pieces on a Second World War veteran as well as new restaurants in the county, so we want to incorporate a variety of flavours in the things we do."

Matthew, whose family settled in the UK from Zimbabwe in 2005, has always shown entrepreneurial skills and at the age of 14 he ran a market stall selling mobile phone accessories from China.

Drivers caught breaking law in safety crackdown

DRIVERS who flout the law by using mobile phones or not wearing a seat belt were caught out during the latest road safety operation in Harlow.

Road policing officers teamed up with Essex Safer Roads Partnership to lead the crackdown which took place on Thursday.

A total 30 people were spotted not wearing a seat belt while 28 drivers were seen using a mobile phone behind the wheel. Two of those were also dealt with for failing to wear a seat belt.

The vehicles of four people who were found to be driving without insurance were seized at the roadside. Nine vehicles were not covered by a valid MOT and one driver was found to be driving otherwise than in accordance with their licence.

Two drivers were pulled over for failing to stop at a red traffic light and three were dealt with for speeding. One vehicle was stopped for being over the legal weight limit and one driver was dealt with for careless driving.

A 26-year-old man from Harlow was also arrested on suspicion of drug driving after the car in which he was travelling was stopped in Southern Way. He has been released on bail pending further investigation until May 9, 2016.

Rail company on track with carriage upgrades

WORK to improve standards of passenger comfort on four-carriage trains used by Harlow commuters is under way.

The interiors of rolling stock in Abellio Great Anglia's West Anglia fleet on the Cambridge to Liverpool Street, Bishop's Stortford to Stratford and Cheshunt/Hertford East to Liverpool Street services are being refreshed as part of an £3.5m programme of improvements announced in December.

The upgrade includes new seat covers and vinyl flooring, resprayed interiors and new signage.

The work, which is being carried out by the company's fleet maintenance team at the Clacton-on-Sea depot, is due to be completed by October.

Customer service director Andrew Goodrum said: "I am pleased that we are continuing to invest in improvements to our train fleet over the next few months as part of our commitment to provide better passenger comfort and a more pleasant on-train environment."

Anniversary appeal over 'horrific' attack

Robbery victims still recovering a year after terrifying ordeal

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

DETECTIVES investigating a brutal attack on a father and son in their home in Harlow a year ago have made a fresh appeal for witnesses.

The two victims suffered serious injuries when they were attacked by three people – two men and a woman – who burst into their house in Tunnmeade and demanded money.

The pair were forced to hand over £1,600 in £20 notes.

One of the victims, a man in his 50s, was attacked with a meat cleaver and sustained numerous lacerations to his head, arms and legs. His son, who is in his 20s, suffered a deep wound to his back and a broken collarbone.

Their injuries were so severe that police are treating the case as attempted murder.

The robbery took place at about 9pm on Wednesday, March 25 last year but despite a lengthy police investigation no-one has been charged.

Detectives believe the pair were targeted because of the cash they kept in the property and this week, on the first anniversary, have issued an appeal for more information.

Police reveal they are treating savage assault as attempted murder

Detective Constable Ryan Burgess, of Harlow CID, said: "A year has passed since this horrific attack. Although the investigation has made progress, no-one has yet been prosecuted for inflicting these horrendous injuries.

"The level of violence used in this attack was huge and both men were lucky to survive. The victims are recovering but the injuries have had an impact on their lives."

The robbers are thought to have left the scene in a white first generation Ford Transit Connect van, driving along Momples Road and Howard

Way and heading south towards Second Avenue.

All three are white and spoke with local accents. The woman is aged 18-22 and was described as slim, about 5ft 2in tall with long light-coloured hair. She wore a light coloured jacket, dark or black leggings and white or light coloured footwear.

Cigarette

CCTV footage appears to show her smoking a cigarette when she got into the van from the passenger side.

One of the men is in his 30s and was balding or had short shaved hair. He was of medium build, about 5ft 8ins tall and wore a dark top. The second man was also about 5ft 8ins tall, of medium build and wore a white coloured top.

"I believe someone must know something and I urge anyone with information to get in touch," said DC Burgess. "Were you near Tunnmeade at the time of the attack? Did you see the van in the CCTV picture? Please contact my team if you have any information."

Coach destroyed in M11 blaze

THIS was the scene on the M11 near Harlow in the early hours of Saturday after a coach burst into flames.

Fire crews from Harlow, Old Harlow and Stansted tackled the blaze on the hard shoulder of the northbound carriageway between junctions 7 and 8 of the motorway at 4.19am.

The driver and passengers had managed to get out of the vehicle without injury.

Traffic using the motorway was halted temporarily, causing a queue of about half-a-mile. A lane was opened once the fire was out to ease the congestion.

Firms help with career choices

HARLOW: Sir Charles Kao UTC helped young people plan for their future by hosting its first careers festival.

Businesses from the fields of science, technology, mathematics and engineering – the primary focus of the UTC's curriculum – were represented at the event.

Pharmaceuticals giant GlaxoSmithKline and Anglia Ruskin University were among those taking part.

Principal Mike McKeaveney said it had been a great success and had helped young people explore their options.

"I look forward to hosting this event again next year and I am sure we will see more organisations and young people getting involved," he added.

Academy to work with charity for homeless

New Streets2Homes link

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

STUDENTS from Burnt Mill Academy have established a link with a charity which supports the town's homeless.

The school, in First Avenue, Harlow, is now providing Streets2Homes with food, clothing, sleeping bags and blankets.

The link was forged by the school's charity committee which is formed of a representative from each form group. It organises fundraising activities such as non-uniform days and cake sales to support worthy causes in the community.

Teacher Amy Mills said: "We are working with Streets2Home as they are a very local charity we feel the children will be able to relate to."

"Homeless people in Harlow rely on Streets2Homes to feed them all year round. It is good to

Winston visits nursery to say thank you

A HARLOW nursery has started raising funds for childhood bereavement charity Winston's Wish.

Children and staff at Busy Bees Childcare, in The Greenway, were visited by the charity's mascot Winston Bear to mark the start of the year-long partnership.

He handed out banners, flags and balloons to the assembled youngsters.

The charity provides services which help children and young people to rebuild their lives following the death of a parent or sibling.

Busy Bees managing director Marg Randles said: "It is extremely important to us that we help a national charity that supports children and families. Winston's Wish is a fantastic fit."

"We decide on something, leave it lying around and wait and see what happens. If no one kicks up a fuss, because most people don't understand what has been decided, we continue step by step until there is no turning back." Raymond Barre.

WHAT'S ON

MOJO

Victoria Hall Theatre, Bury Road, Old Harlow
until Saturday, April 2 (8pm) £13/£10 concessions

Harlow Theatre Company presents this savagely funny, swaggering story about six terrified men, two dead bodies, a navy cutlass and a dollop of rock and roll. Set in the back streets and alleyways of Soho during the 1950s, two gangland bosses are locked in a power struggle over the pretty heartthrob Silver Johnny - their answer to the new Elvis.

COUNTRY SUPERSTARS

Rhodes, South Road, Bishop's Stortford
Thursday, March 31 (8pm) £18.50

Enjoy an evening of country music hosted by Sarah Jayne who has been performing as queen of country Dolly Parton for more than 22 years. The show turns back the clock to features of the most influential icons who shaped country history and the music including Patsy Cline, Johnny Cash, Billie Jo Spears, Kenny Rogers, Willie Nelson, John Denver, Garth Brooks and Tammy Wynette.

PINOCCHIO

Rhodes, South Road, Bishop's Stortford
Friday, April 1 (7.30pm) £16/£14 concessions, £10 children

Ballet Theatre UK presents the tale of the wooden puppet carved from pine whose one wish is to become a real boy. Set to a classical score, this production promises to delight ballet audiences and families alike.

SNAKE DAVIS

Rhodes, South Road, Bishop's Stortford
Saturday, April 2 (8pm) £17.50

Having performed live with the likes of M-People, Eurythmics and Lisa Stansfield, UK saxophonist Snake Davis and his own band perform hits featuring classic sax solos including Baker Street, Born To Run and Yakkety Yak.

JENNY ECLAIR

Rhodes, South Road,
Bishop's Stortford
Thursday, April 7 (8pm)
£17.50

Professional grumpy old woman, Splash survivor, amateur soup-maker and novice knitter, Jenny Eclair is younger than Madonna but eats crisps and likes wine. Semi-bearded and suffering from outbreaks of gout and hysteria, she puts middle age under the microscope and decides whether to laugh, cry or buy a dachshund.

THE CHAIRS

Harlow Playhouse
Sunday, April 3 (3pm). Pay what you can.

A rare opportunity to see a live performance of this groundbreaking play by Eugene Ionesco in a unique interpretation with audio description incorporated into the live performance by Extant, the UK's leading blind and visually impaired theatre company. An elderly couple frantically prepare chairs to welcome a procession of invisible guests to their isolated home, an uncertain space where anarchy, ageing and anxiety collide. But who is the mysterious orator they all await and what will their world-changing message be?

AN EVENING WITH IAN WAITE &amp; CAMILLA DALLERUP

Rhodes, South Road, Bishop's Stortford
Tuesday, April 5 (7.30pm) £25 (£22 concessions)

The Strictly Come Dancing favourites, who are best known for their high intensity performances on the hit BBC show, perform a dance showcase spectacular designed to dazzle and wow.

COPPELIA

Harlow Playhouse
Thursday, April 7 & Friday, April 8 (7pm), Saturday, April 9 & Sunday, April 10 (2pm). £6.50-£13.50 (+ £1.50 per ticket)

Harlow ballet presents the most charming of all great classical ballets. See article right.

CODEBREAKERS: THE STORY OF ENIGMA

Harlow Playhouse
Saturday, April 16 (7.30pm) £14

Dr Mark Baldwin presents this show about one of the Second World War's most fascinating stories, the Allied codebreakers who deciphered vast numbers of secret messages and hastened the Allied victory by cracking the secrets of Germany's ingenious Enigma ciphering machine. There will be an opportunity for the audience to questions followed by a hands-on demonstration of one of the few surviving Enigma machines.

A-har me lad!

TIMBERS will be shivered and buckles swashed when St John's ARC holds a family fun day.

Staff at the arts and recreation centre in Old Harlow are preparing to welcome aboard shipmates for an afternoon of pirate-themed activities this weekend.

Landlubbers and seadogs aged from three to 10 can take part in a treasure hunt to search for hidden booty, enjoy pirate games and show off their arts and crafts skills.

There will also be a chance to learn pirate jigs and take part in sea shanties with a professional dancer and musicians.

Families wanting to take part are advised to book as soon as possible. Tickets cost £3 per child and all children must be accompanied by an adult.

The event takes place at St John's ARC, in Market Street, on Sunday (April 3) from 2-4.30pm. To book tickets, call the box office on (01279) 442447 or email info@stjohnsarc.org.uk.

The event is funded by the centre's Tobin Fund which was set up to encourage the performance and appreciation of music by young people. Prizes have been donated by Usborne Publishing.

Coppelia dances in

THE original toy story will see a doll come to life on stage when Harlow Ballet Association presents Coppelia next week.

More than 100 performers from the company will perform at Harlow Playhouse from Thursday (April 7) to Saturday.

"I am very excited for the performances," said show director Michael Branwell.

"The ages range from four or five to 68, as we have an adult cast as well as a child cast.

"My main feeling is that I'm immensely proud of the cast. One particular girl has already proved me right. I cast her in October and she has come up trumps and more."

Set in a European village, the ballet tells the story of a toy maker who creates a doll so life-like that a young man falls in love with it. The classic tale shows the doll come to life and compete for the man's affection with his girlfriend.

"It is a lovely story. It is fun and it's not something anyone will struggle to understand," Michael added.

"It is one of the brightest ballets from the classic repertoire. We have done it twice before with big success. It gives lots of children of all ages the opportunity to be on stage at the same time."

The ballet will be performed with original 19th century choreography with Nadia Jones and Jodie Sangster sharing the female lead, while Matthew Morrell is the main man.

Audiences can also look forward to beautiful costumes, specially-made scenery and a score from composer Leo Delibes.

There will be two evening performances on the Thursday and Friday, with 2pm matinees on Saturday and Sunday.

Harlow Ballet Association last performed at Harlow Playhouse in October and Michael said the company has been working on Coppelia ever since.

"There are lots of things that could prove gremlins at this stage, but I'm optimistic," he added.

"All we need now is an audience but from experience that Harlow audiences always leave it to the last minute.

"I would advise anyone to get booking now."

■ Harlow Ballet Association will perform Coppelia from Thursday, April 7 to Saturday, April 10 at Harlow Playhouse. Thursday and Friday performances start at 7pm, Saturday and Sunday shows at 2pm.

Tickets cost £15 for adults and £8 for children. For more information visit: www.playhouseharlow.com.

Much more than clowning around

WE are looking to try something different for this one," said Massimiliano Rossetti with a hint of mischief as we speak on the phone.

He is behind the wheel of his circus company's van which has taken their latest production The Hogwallops all over the country.

The unique blend of circus and theatre will make essential viewing for families when performed at Harlow Playhouse for one night only on April 21.

Massi, as he is known to friends and those with a lesser grasp of Italian, formed Lost in Translation Circus four years ago alongside Annabel Carberry.

"There is a lot of driving," he said over his hands-free.

"We have been going round Europe in the past but for the next couple of shows we are in the UK."

Such is the life of a circus performer that most of his time not performing or rehearsing is spent on the road.

Since establishing the company in 2011, the creative producers have taken productions to Massi's native Italy, Australia, where Annabel is from, Belgium and all over the UK.

The Hogwallops sees spectacular circus skills blend seamlessly into physical comedy, theatrical storytelling and slapstick.

It is set in the only place such a chaotic scene could be: the kitchen of a family.

Massi said: "It is a messy household setting and the scene is set with a piece around a washing machine.

"There are five people on stage playing the different roles in the family – and you can see their hierarchy from different perspectives. Every performer is involved every time.

"You can expect people not to sit in their chairs because you can expect to jump quite a lot. There will not be a moment where you will not be wowed."

There will be room for floor acrobatics, trapeze swings, clowning and summersaults. But listen out too for an original score and narrative between characters.

Combining music, theatre and dance may give the play a different feel to what audiences have come to expect.

But as Massi says: "We are not a contemporary travelling circus.

"We are looking to try something different for this one. It is rarely seen in this country.

"Our aim is to try and integrate circus and theatre. It is something our company is trialling.

"The two really come together and the artistic form of theatre complements the physicality of circus.

"But we made it quite slapstick though because we are not professional actors."

The Hogwallops has been performed all over the UK with the Edinburgh Festival providing a highlight. Massi added: "It will be coming to an end in November and at that stage we will assess the show for next year.

"We will need to see the technicalities but we hope to go back to the Edinburgh Festival at some point.

"It is a family show. We do not define it as a children's show as there is something kids and adults can enjoy. There are funny moments for everyone."

Lost in Translation perform as part of the Pay What You Can season where donations can be made at the end of the show. Workshops in circus skills can also be arranged through Harlow Playhouse.

Massi is a well-travelled clown having trained at the prestigious Carampa Circus School in Madrid and the National Centre for Circus Arts in London.

Lost in Translation has grown and expanded since they began. For The Hogwallops tour the core travelling team will be four circus performers, a musician, an actor and four crew members. They will be joined by freelance artists from one show to another.

"I have been everything in circus," laughed Massi.

"I have done everything in my time. For this show something I do is throw people into the air and catch them. This is called the Russian cradle.

"We actually hold a Guinness World Record for doing 14 (Russian cradle) summersaults in 48 seconds and we will be in the book next year. That is something we do for a display.

"I also do acting and clowning, which is something I might be doing more of now I am 34. I am not as young as I used to be and it might be harder to do some of the falls!"

He added: "I have been in circus since I was 22 and been a performer (of any kind) since I was 18. I always loved a circus when I was younger. I lived near Milan and Rome growing up, and I was never more than 10 metres away from a circus."

"I look forward to performing in Harlow for the first time."

Lost in Translation Circus presents The Hogwallops will be performed on Thursday, April 21 at Harlow Playhouse from 7.30pm. Part of Pay What You Can season where donations can be made at the end. Tickets should be secured in advance from www.playhouseharlow.com.

REVIEWS

FILMGUIDE

Stand up for a spy

Mark Rylance won an Oscar for his role in Steven Spielberg's Bridge Of Spies. As the film comes to the small screen, he reveals what it was like to work with the director and co-star Tom Hanks

MAKING A STAND: Mark Rylance (centre) as Rudolf Abel and Tom Hanks (right) as James Donovan in Bridge Of Spies

Mark Rylance might be best known for his acclaimed theatre work and his role as Thomas Cromwell in the TV adaptation of Wolf Hall, but the Ashford-born actor bagged a best supporting Oscar last month for his brilliant performance in Bridge Of Spies.

A dramatic thriller set against the backdrop of a series of historic events, Bridge Of Spies tells the story of James Donovan (Tom Hanks), a Brooklyn lawyer who finds himself thrust into the center of the Cold War when the CIA sends him on a near impossible mission to negotiate the release of a captured American U-2 pilot.

Here Mark tells us about making Bridge of Spies and what it was like working with big Hollywood names like Steven Spielberg and Tom Hanks.

Tell us about the character you play?

I play Rudolf Abel, a Russian spy who was captured and arrested in America. We don't really know all that much about him, other than the fact that he received and passed on messages at various drop sites throughout New York using a hollow coin. He was hiding out in a kind of bohemian artists' warehouse in Brooklyn with all of these young guys who were what you would call, "left of center."

Eventually, the New York Bar Association gets an insurance lawyer, James Donovan, played by Tom Hanks, to agree to represent Abel, knowing that he was involved in the Nuremberg Trials and had some knowledge of foreign matters like this. Did you find it liberating to play a real person?

Playing a real person can help you draw out a particular side of yourself, but Abel is a mysterious character.

There are not any actual recordings of his voice, so I based his accent on other people's descriptions, but there is a brief clip on YouTube of him being led from a truck into a courtroom which provided me with some nice physical aspects to play with, like his stance, which was almost hawk-like.

Tell us about the time period in which the story takes place, as well as the political climate of the time.

This is a true story, and the events that open the film took place in 1957. It was a dangerous time when the U.S. government thrived on frightening its citizens. When Abel was captured, the country was in a frenzy and everyone was convinced he should be executed for his crimes, and, in fact, there is a scene in the film where members of the public present at Abel's trial become very angry when his sentence is read.

But Donovan's argument had always been that this was not treason, because Abel was never an American citizen, but a professional spy doing his patriotic duty for his country, and it is Donovan's brilliant assertion that no matter who the enemy is or what they have done, everyone needs to be treated equally under that law. We can't change the law simply because the public is outraged.

How would you describe the film?

It is a Cold War thriller with the psychology of James Donovan's actions at its heart. It's fascinating to see how an honest, hard-working lawyer like Donovan gets drawn into the powerful corridors of the CIA and the FBI and the subtleties of international relations between America and the Soviet Union at that time.

Tell us about the look of the film.

The sets are all incredibly beautiful with an amazing amount of detail. And the props on set were extraordinary and so completely accurate for that time, things like jars of peanut butter... stuff you just assumed didn't exist anymore. As an actor, we are working amongst crafts people, and just being surrounded by these people with such skill and love for what they do is very inspiring.

How was it working with Tom Hanks?

Tom saw me in Twelfth Night in Los Angeles in 2003 before the production was famous and he was one of the first actors to come to it and to come backstage afterwards and talk to the cast, which was very exciting for everyone.

The day before we started filming, he invited me over to read through the script with him, since a big part of the story is the relationship between their characters, which was very considerate. What surprised me the most about Tom is that he loves to make people laugh, and has this very goofy sense of humor which immediately puts people at ease. He also has a phenomenal memory, loves to do crossword puzzles, and is a history buff.

And how was it working with Steven Spielberg?

Steven trusts you to come, obviously, with your lines learned, and to know where you're going to and where you've come from, but he also expects you to have a willingness to play. We never had any discussions about what he was hoping to convey with my character because it was more about making fascinating stories with real people and having interesting things happening to these people.

For his debut feature film about an apocalyptic future inhabited by the tribal remains of humanity, Tom Paton chose a wood in Billericay for his main location. He tells Darryl Webber about the making of Pandorica

TRIBAL GATHERING:

one of the stars
of Pandorica

Making Essex look like Middle-earth

If you go down to the woods today... you might find a post-apocalyptic sci-fi action thriller about warring tribes being filmed there. Well, you would have a few months ago anyway.

Billericay is the unlikely location for much of the filming of Pandorica, a striking debut feature from Essex-based director Tom Paton.

Released at cinemas and digitally this Friday (April 1), Pandorica is a sci-adventure conceived and created by Tom on a very limited budget – but you wouldn't know that too look at it.

Pandorica is stylish and atmosphere and certainly doesn't look like the work of a debut director. Tom has been making commercials, ads and short films for the last decade but this is his step up to the next level. What makes it more remarkable is that Tom is a self-taught director.

"I went to the university of YouTube, I taught myself everything," he admits.

Tom has a very can-do approach to his work, but he's not a dreamer. Everything is thought about and carefully planned, including coming up with Pandorica.

"I was writing for a magazine which was very business-orientated and I started thinking about how film is very different. It's the only business where you take a big gamble on finding an audience and put a lot of money into it before you know you're going to get anything back.

"It's interesting to see how the film industry is coping with VOD [video on demand] and streaming. You don't tend to get the small indie films that you used to. You either get big blockbusters or tiny budget films, but nothing in between. I thought the film industry could follow what's happened with music."

Armed with enthusiasm, ideas, and own way of looking at film-making, Tom wrote Pandorica last May, working on a low budget but aiming high. "I wrote it in three weeks and after a couple of rewrites, we went into production in September," Tom says proudly. "We shot it in 12 days and then went into post-production."

"It was insane but I was almost doing it to prove you could do it that way and make it high quality. I think it's the way film-making needs to go. They need to be more edgy and experimental again and then they'll find an audience."

So how and why did Tom choose a wood in Billericay for his main location for the film?

"My wife is from Leigh-on-Sea and I moved down to Essex [from the Midlands] six years ago, so I consider myself an adopted Essex boy. We live in Leigh, my studio – where I did all the post production for the film – is in Shoeburyness and so I was keen to work in Essex.

"I needed somewhere that looked right, a forest that had power and toilets. We tried places all over the country but found what we wanted in Essex."

Their ideal location turned out to be the Skirmish paintball site in Billericay which had all the facilities they needed coupled with the look they were after.

"It's a private wood and it has a very ominous feel. It was a dream find to be honest."

"Throughout my career I've always tried to shoot in Essex. The costs are much more achievable and people are always friendly and really helpful here."

"Also, you can make Essex look like Middle-earth!"

The film is certainly getting a good reception at screenings and festivals and Tom is now doing the rounds of promotion and publicity that go with a film release.

"I'm very proud of the movie and the way we've done it" he says.

"I think it shows it can be done like this. I'm keen to spread the word."

LIFESTYLE & CRAFT

FOOD & DRINK at the filmGUIDE's S LIFESTYLE time!

AT last, spring is finally on her way - the bluebells are poking their little noses out from their mossy cocoons and the daffodils are blooming. So to celebrate the coming of all things bright and beautiful, I decided to make some easy peasy bunting to decorate the house and garden with.

This bunting is by far the easiest bunting you can make, you don't need advanced sewing skills and in true Jodie Podie style, it will take just one hour to put this cheerful ensemble together.

I use this template again and again as it can be adapted to suit any occasion or season, be it Easter, summer garden parties and barbecues, birthdays, weddings or Christmas!

Simply choose your fabric, whip up your bunting and you'll have some lovely decorations to use year after year.

You will need:

Cotton Fabric

I like to use two or three contrasting fabrics for this project, but really, anything goes. Lace would be ideal for weddings!

Brown string

Brown thread and needle OR

Fabric glue/glue gun

Step 1 - Preparation

Draw a triangle the size of the bunting you want to make, onto a piece of cardboard. Cut it out to form a template. Then use this template to draw six triangles on your fabric. Cut them out.

Step 2 - Making bunting with glue

Lay the fabric pieces front-side up on a table at regular intervals. Then lay your string along the top so you can see how much you need.

Then using your glue gun or fabric glue, simply apply a thin line of glue along the top edge of the bunting - and lay the long piece of brown string along the top one triangle at a time.

Remember to leave enough access string at either end for tying.

Step 3 - Making bunting by sewing

If you want to sew the bunting, lay the fabric pieces front-side up on a table at regular intervals.

Then lay your long piece of brown string along the top edge of the bunting - and pin in place.

Thread your needle with a long piece of matching brown cotton and tie a decent knot in the ends, then starting one end simple sew each piece of fabric to the string using a simple in-and-out running stitch.

To make sure it was secure, I made an extra vertical stitch in between. Remember to leave enough access string at either end for tying.

Be the life and sole

There are some childhood memories that stick with us as adults for all the wrong reasons. I don't think my PE teacher realised the impact of her words, when at the age of five it was demanded of me, in front of the whole class, to "straighten my toes correctly".

I can still feel that mortifying moment as my cheeks reddened and I said, 'but Miss, this is how my feet look'. Of course after telling my mother she frog-marched me (no pun I walk like a frog), straight to a podiatrist who took one look at my bent toes and said something along the lines of: "I'm afraid Molly has what we call Hammer toes. Her only option is to have her feet broken and reset, her little toes amputated or to wear excellent supportive shoes for the rest of her life".

To be fair I was just so happy my mother wasn't going to have my Shrek feet set upon, that I didn't really think of how this would affect me later on in life. Well let me tell you dear readers, it has. Aside from the fact I have spent my life disguising my toes in closed sandals (I won't go near flip flops), wouldn't dream of the opposite sex even glimpsing them, I have also suffered a great deal of inflammatory pain.

Now though is the time where I may get some empathy. As the weather warms up, we tend to walk more and of course there is the London Marathon. This is the time when toenails drop off and I hear many stories of plantar fasciitis, an inflammatory foot condition that I too suffer from.

There is one thing we can all do to help ourselves with foot pain and it starts with choosing the correct walking shoes. Dave Wain, Podiatrist at Carnation Footcare (www.carnationfootcare.co.uk) gives these tips when choosing shoes.

- 1) Look for a low, supportive heel that rounds (or bevels) in. A thick heel or one that flares out will cause your foot to slap down rather than roll. This slows down forward motion and increases the occurrence of sore shins.
- 2) A walker's foot hits heel first and then rolls gradually from heel-to-toe. So, you will need a flexible sole and more bend in the toe than a runner. You should be able to twist and bend the toe area.
- 3) Look for a shoe that is lightweight and breathable.
- 4) Be sure your foot has enough room in the toe box. There should be a thumbnail's width (or about a half inch) between your toes and the end of the shoe. The shoe should be wide enough in the toe that your toes can move freely. Your heel should not slip, and the shoe should not pinch or bind, especially across the arch or ball of your foot.

5) Go shoe shopping at the end of the day when your feet may be slightly swollen. Also be sure to wear the same socks you will be wearing during your walks. Try on both shoes in a pair – your feet may not be the same size (really).

6) Keep track of how many miles you have put on your shoes, and replace them every 300 to 600 miles. (If you are wearing very lightweight shoes, are overweight, or you are hard on your shoes, stay toward the low end on mileage). To extend the life of your shoes be sure to wear them only for your walks.

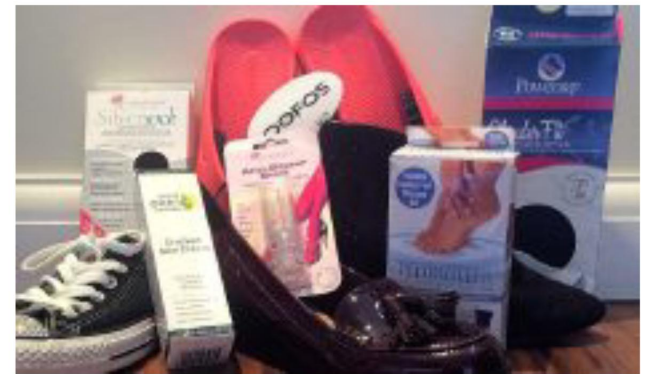

I've been gladly testing products this week and here's my recommendations:

CARNATION PEDIROLLER £9.48
WWW.CARNATIONFOOTCARE.CO.UK

I was using a frozen golf ball to alleviate the pain of my plantar fasciitis, until this little gem landed through the post. Just using it for a few minutes a day has relieved the burning, throbbing pain that I regularly get just from walking. Ideal for anyone with arch pain or those who do a lot of walking, running or simply have tired feet.

00FOS RECOVERY SHOES RRP £40
WWW.00FOS.CO.UK

Recommended for recovery after long runs, especially if you've undertaken a marathon, these flip-flops are designed to give you a faster recovery time. The design reduces stress on sore feet, knees and back, have more cushioning than foam and help invigorate tired, stressed out soles. With a variety of colours to choose from these are ideal for men and women.

WHAT SKIN NEEDS CRACKED SKIN CREAM £12.99
WWW.WHATSKINNEEDS.CO.UK

When we think of just how much time we spend on our feet, and what we put them through it's crazy that we don't give them the attention they deserve. This intensive skin solution helps heal rough damaged skin and smells divine. I applied it before bed, put cotton socks on and woke up with baby soft feet.

CARNATION SILVER SOCK £7.95
WWW.FIRSTAIDFAST.CO.UK

I'm passionate about the uses of silver after having my MRSA wound dressed daily with a silver dressing. These specially designed socks have a ton of multi-uses and can help those suffering from diabetes, chilblains and any type of fungal infection.

POWERSTEP FASHION ORTHOTICS £39.91
WWW.FIRSTAIDFAST.CO.UK

Ideal for fashion shoes, such as high heels, wedges and pumps. The slim design with extra support for the arch and heel, extra cushioning under the ball of the foot is pure comfort for the soles and a must on a night out.

CARNATION ANTI-BLISTER STICK £3.99
WWW.CARNATIONFOOTCARE.CO.UK

Stop blisters from forming before they've had a chance to ruin a night out. This ingenious stick is small enough to carry in your handbag and immediately eases friction, while providing an extra layer of protection to the affected area.

OBJECTS OF DESIRE >with DONNA PRIOR

Retro so bold and beautiful

Every week we pick a different object and showcase some of the biggest, best and boldest examples we can find. This week we're taking a step back in time, and looking at all things retro.

MADE from wood in a grey finish with black text, this retro wall-mounted bottle opener has hook attachments on the back.
www.MelodyMaison.co.uk £9.95

DELIGHT your family and friends with endless vibrant frozen slush drinks.
www.prezzybox.com £49.95

STEP back in time with this retro sewing box.
www.raspberrymash.co.uk £40.00

THIS attractive retro style biscuit tin will certainly bring a touch of vintage French flair to the kitchen.
www.boutiqueprovencale.co.uk £22.50

THE Retro Orange Torpedo Bin has a polished steel flap lid.
www.theoldcinema.co.uk £175

THIS retro sideboard has four drawers and two cupboard doors and is made from wood, and features a two tone double coloured finish.
www.alexanderandpearl.co.uk £495

THIS retro-style wooden trolley is beautifully crafted from solid wood. It is perfect for serving drinks and snacks or tea in the garden. The trolley is available in three wood choices.
www.wharfside.co.uk £1,500

EASY to clean, this big smoke rug is made with a 100 per cent polypropylene pile which is hard wearing, and non-shedding. www.modern-rugs.co.uk £39.99

Take your home back to the old school with these vinyl coasters, but forget searching the loft to get the old record player down, these are just simply to put your glasses and mugs on!
www.prezzybox.com £9.95

Great first home in popular spot

THIS two-bedroom end-of-terrace property has gas central heating and uPVC double glazing.

The property consists of a large lounge/dining room with feature fireplace, uPVC double glazed conservatory and a study area.

The fitted kitchen is in medium oak, with space for a fridge and washing machine and has a tiled floor.

Upstairs, there are two good-sized double bedrooms and a white bathroom suite.

The rear garden is west-facing, with a side gate and part-decked area. There is also a useful shed/summer house.

■ The house has a guide price of £250,000-£265,000. Contact Centurion, 4-6 Market Street, Old Harlow. Tel: (01279) 400444

Kia Rio brings fight to market

TESTED Kia Rio 1.1 CRDI 1

Kia's Rio brings the fight to the established top supermini players, such as the Peugeot 208, Ford Fiesta and VW Polo.

Available in both three and five door hatchback form, this current model gets upmarket looks, along with offering a spacious cabin, decent equipment levels and varied engine options – including a 1.1 and 1.4 litre diesel and a 1.25 and 1.4 litre petrol. With 74 bhp, this 3-cylinder 1.1-litre CRDI 2 EcoDynamics diesel certainly isn't the quickest performer, but it does boast exceptionally low emissions of just 86 g/km of CO<sub>2</sub> and an exceptionally high 85.6 mpg (official combined figure). Those looking for a peppier drive should opt for the larger 89 bhp diesel or the 107 bhp petrol.

It might not be as sharp or involving to drive as the Ford Fiesta, but manages to hold its own against many other supermini rivals with good body control and stability. Less impressive is ride quality, which can feel a bit unsettled at times, as well as rather poor engine and road noise refinement levels at higher speeds – although there's a noticeable lack of wind noise intrusion. Thanks to its compact dimensions though, the Rio is easy to drive around town and park in tight spaces – further aided by its tight turning circle.

Both three-door and five-door versions are available in a wide variety of finishes: Blaze Red, Bright Silver, Electric Blue, Midnight Black, Graphite, and Clear White. There's also a wide selection of trim options on offer, including 1, 1 Air, 2 and 3 specifications. Even entry-level models get electric front windows, trip computer, steering wheel audio controls and

Bluetooth. 1 Air trim adds air-conditioning, while 2 specification gets 16-inch alloy wheels, front fog lights, heated door mirrors and front/rear electric windows. Top spec Kia

Rio 3 boasts numerous extra luxuries, including 17-inch alloys, LED daytime running lights, automatic headlights with cornering function, climate control, cruise control and 17-inch alloy wheels.

Rio boasts a desirable, high-quality interior. Key features include the three-dial instrument cluster and toggle switches adorning the

AT A GLANCE

- Model: Kia Rio 1.1 CRDI 1
- Price OTR: £11,995
- Engine Size CC: 1120cc, 3 cylinder diesel
- Torque: 180Nm
- Maximum Power: 74 bhp @ 4,000 rpm
- Max Speed: 99 mph
- CO<sub>2</sub> g/km: 86g/km of CO<sub>2</sub>
- Combined mpg: 85.6 mpg

dashboard. Most drivers should be able to get comfortable, thanks to an adjustable driving position, although some may find the seats a bit lacking in lower back support. Another gripe is the restricted rear vision, caused by a shallow rear screen and chunky rear three-quarter pillars.

Despite this Kia being a small car, there's actually a fair amount of space available. Two adults are easily accommodated in the rear. Back aft, the 288 litre boot compares favourably with rivals such as the Hyundai i20 and Ford Fiesta. Folding the seats increases space to a healthy 923 litres. Elsewhere there are cubbies dotted around the cabin. Annoyingly, the door bins lack depth, but can at least house a large bottle of soft drink or water.

Verdict: The Rio is an affordable, yet capable supermini package, boasting sharp looks and a spacious interior. Kia's seven-year/100,000 mile warranty gives further peace of mind, too.

Haileybury

School Nurse Hertford, Hertfordshire

Alternate Weekends (School Term time only)

Haileybury requires a committed and capable individual to work within the Health Centre in this outstanding independent boarding school. The job holder will be part of a team of 6 Nurses providing 24 hour care for Haileybury pupils during term time. They will be required to set a high standard of nursing practice in the management of acute and ongoing medical conditions.

The successful candidate will be a Registered Nurse (RN child) either on part 8 or part 15 of the NMC register, with relevant post registration experience, or on part 1 (RN adult). In addition, they will have: substantial post experience, which preferably includes the treatment of children/young people; strong communication and interpersonal skills at all levels; be well organised and be able to work flexibly within a team.

For an application pack, please visit <https://www.haileybury.com/my-haileybury/careers-haileybury/support-staff-vacancies> or, alternatively, please contact Human Resources on 01992 706379.

For an informal discussion, please contact Dr Katie Parkinson, College Medical Officer on 01992 706288.

Closing Date: Friday 15 April 2016.

Haileybury is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff to share this commitment. Applicants for the above post must be willing to undergo child protection screening, including reference checks with previous employers and a criminal record check via the Disclosure and Barring Service.

A full-body photograph of a giraffe standing against a plain white background. The giraffe is facing forward, looking directly at the camera. It has a long neck, small ossicones (horns), and large, patterned ears. Its coat is covered in large, irregular brown patches separated by lighter, cream-colored lines. The legs are long and slender, with lighter-colored hooves. The overall appearance is that of a young giraffe.

Tower of London Poppies on Tour – Lincoln

Departing on 5 June 2016

Blood Swept Lands and Seas of Red was arguably the most poignant art installation of the 21st century. But it doesn't stop there. Two of the most iconic sections have since been touring the UK, and this summer, Lincoln Castle will present Wave – the sculpture which formed a sweeping arch of bright red poppies over the walkway to the tower. Maybe you didn't get the chance to see the installation in London; maybe you did. Either way, this tour continues to remind us of the sacrifices that were still being made 100 years ago, and our short break is the perfect opportunity to see Wave at Lincoln Castle and visit the beautiful Peak District.

Prices Includes:

- Private coach travel from your local area
- One night's stay with three course evening meal & cooked breakfast
- Visit to Bakewell in the Peak District
- Visit to Lincoln to see the 'Wave' of poppies

Monkey World - Ape Rescue Centre

Departing on 11 June 2016

Escape to a natural world of primates, ponies and cattle in the south of England. In the ancient landscape of the New Forest National Park, ponies and cattle graze freely, whilst deeper in the forest, deer browse beneath canopies of mighty oaks and beeches. Across the other side of Poole Harbour in Dorset, over 250 rescued and endangered primates inhabit a woodland sanctuary, where they enjoy the company of their own kind in a safe and natural environment. This is a wonderful opportunity to get close to the natural world and witness some real life monkey-business!

Prices Includes:

- Private coach travel from your local area
- One night's stay with three course evening meal & cooked breakfast
- Entrance to Monkey World - Ape Rescue Centre
- Tour of the New Forest
- Visit to Lyndhurst

Ladies Day at Royal Ascot

Departing on 15 June 2016

This is a highlight on the racing calendar – when royalty, fashion and sport unite amid a raucous applause, as the world's finest thoroughbreds go head to head in a grueling battle of stamina and determination. Gold Cup Day, or Ladies Day as it is colloquially known, has an atmosphere that sets it apart from other race meetings. It's the day when the ladies dress to impress, flaunting their summer dresses and hats whilst the gentlemen don their suits; it's the day which starts with the Royal Procession, as Her Majesty The Queen and her guests parade along the length of the straight mile in a horse drawn carriage; and it's the day that race goers can watch the action and elation of one of the longest races of the flat season!

Prices Includes:

- Private coach travel from your local area
- One night's stay with three course evening meal & cooked breakfast
- Entrance to the Silver Ring at Royal Ascot
- Visit to Windsor

days from £109

Florabundance at Chatsworth

Departing on 25 June 2016

Known as the 'palace of the peaks', Chatsworth is one of England's finest historic houses and during this colourful event it becomes all the more attractive as the interiors are bedecked with stunning floral displays. With over 30 rooms to see, as well as a huge collection of artefacts that have gathered here over the house's 500 year history, it's a flower-filled journey through time. You can also venture outside to wander around the landscaped gardens, giant water features and impressive sculptures. So join us for this relaxing spring break and see inside the home of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire when it is at its most beautiful.

Prices Includes:

- Private coach travel from your local area
- One night's stay with three course evening meal & cooked breakfast
- Visit to Bakewell in the Peak District
- Visit to Florabundance at Chatsworth House

Run sensation Nathan breaks Cook's record

Harlow cricketer beat England captain's tally at 12

by Frank Smith

sportsdesk@hertssexnews.co.uk

HAVING broken England Test captain Alastair Cook's records, Harlow cricketer Nathan Khelawon demonstrated his versatility after emulating Grand Slam winners Chris Robshaw and Jonathan Joseph.

Despite being just 13, the Harlow Cricket Club second XI prodigy Khelawon burst on to the scene at the end of 2015 by smashing Cook's schoolboy run-scoring records.

In his last year at Bedford School, an 18-year-old Cook hit 1,267 runs, but Khelawon blew that out of the water with 1,689 runs for Chelmsford's New Hall School – which included 13 hundreds with an average of more than 67 – while he was just 12.

Now a year older, sporting all-rounder Khelawon was in London for the Rosslyn Park HSBC National School Sevens, the world's largest annual school sport tournament with more than 650 teams taking part.

Grand slam

Robshaw and Joseph, who just wrapped up a Six Nations Grand Slam with England, are just two of the many high-profile stars to grace previous tournaments.

And while Khelawon's school U13 team failed to escape their group, winning two of their three games, Khelawon was more than happy to swap his pads for a scrum cap.

"Rugby helps build my physicality and I like the physicality of rugby – I am not going to lie," said Khelawon.

"I like to be outdoors, I don't like being indoors, so being able to run around and help my teammates out is a great feeling.

"The Rosslyn Park Sevens is a great tournament and another feather in my cap. When you hear that players like Chris Robshaw and Jonathan Joseph have played in the tournament, they have now gone really far.

RUN AROUND: Harlow Cricket Club prodigy Nathan Khelawon

"Cricket is my favourite sport but I do love rugby."

While rugby might not have brought Khelawon any more accolades last week, there appears no stopping him when it comes to cricket.

And the teenage sensation admits he has former Essex player turned New Hall School teacher Gareth James to thank for his new-found stardom.

"I have to thank Mr James for giving me the exposure of playing at the different age groups and try to flourish to my full potential," Khelawon added.

"Alastair Cook was 18 when he made around 1,300 runs and I hit 1,689 I think it was in the end at the age of 12, but that was because of the opportunity Mr James gave me to play from U13 to the first team. So I must have played over 50 school games in the season.

"But I do train hard in the winter with my dad, scraping away the snow when it gets cold and putting in those hours of dedication that you need to get far in a sport that you love.

"My family have put a lot of effort, taking time off work, to make sure I can play these sports."

■ In Rugby Seven's biggest year the next generation of rugby stars, inspired by the Rugby World Cup, from more than 650 teams descended on Rosslyn Park HSBC National Schools Sevens to start on their own journey and break new ground. More information at <http://www.rpns7.co.uk/>

In brief

Busy Easter for Harlow runners

RUNNING: Harlow Running Club members took on several parkruns over the Easter weekend.

In Harlow, Ben Usher finished third out of 99 finishers in 21min 43sec.

Other Harlow results: Martyn Coulter (4th in 22:08), Andy Bradley (11th and 2nd Vet 50 in 23:25), Graham Saville (13th in 23:54), Alan Cootes (14th and 1st Vet 60 in 23:56), Spencer Brooks (15th in 23:59), Paul Dixon (17th in 24:11), Alan Wellbelove (24th in 24:36), Saira Muschamp (26th and 3rd female in 25:01), Robin Lozeau (29th and 2nd Vet 60 in 25:26), Debbie Barry (32nd and 1st female Vet 55 in 25:59), Terry Pike (36th in 27:33), Jeff Mace (37th in 27:42), Austin Nyamande (60th in 30:04) and Pushpa Mistry (61st in 30:54).

Meanwhile at the Gunpowder parkrun in Waltham Abbey, Jamie Jephcott finished in second place out of 133 finishers in an excellent 19:08.

He was followed by Jamie Luck (25th in 22:38), Paul Schroder (26th in 22:42), Laura Jephcott (71st and 1st female junior in 28:21) and Wendy Spring (100th in 31:41).

At Hatfield Forest, Owen Haigh finished in 12th out of 171 finishers in a superb 20:28.

Also running were Jason Haigh (19th in 20:42), Martin McColgan (47th in 24:31), David Page (66th in 25:49), Janice Page (77th and third female Vet 50 in 27:21) and Michelle Hyde (93rd in 28:23).

At Hoddesdon, Sean Flynn was 15th and first Vet 50 in 24:25.

In Aldershot, Andy Kinney was 121st out of 207 finishers in 29:09.

Kerry Mavris completed the Exeter 10K on Good Friday, placing 146th out of 207 finishers in 57:22, and the next day was 58th out of 95 finishers at the Tamar Lakes parkrun at Bude in Cornwall in 29:34.

On Easter Sunday, Andy Kinney completed the Easter Egg 10K, near Birmingham, in 155th place out of 237 finishers in 59:53 and then on Easter Monday finished the London Easter 10K in Regents Park in 143rd place out of 272 finishers in 58:39.

Hawks finish season flying

BASKETBALL: Harlow Hawks finished their Herts County League Division One regular season campaign with a narrow 67-65 win at Bedford Thunder.

The team travelled light, only taking eight players and three of those being U18.

The game started well with their most experienced men on the court, with baskets from Tom White, Lee Morris, Shab Niaz and Rimantas Norkeliunas opening up a four-point lead after the first quarter.

The second period was an even affair, but good work on the boards by Mark Haddow and good shooting from Niaz gave Hawks a 38-34 lead at half-time.

The third quarter carried on in the same vein, but Bedford used their quick pace to get up the court well and the Hawks defence had to stem the flow.

The defence stepped it up again in the fourth, with clutch baskets from Callum Sargent and Jack Hawkins giving the visitors the narrow 67-65 win.

Hawks finished fifth in the table and now have the Essex League Division Two play-off semi-final ahead of them on Wednesday April 20 at the Harlow Leisurezone.

Parsloe celebrate cup success

PARSLOE Athletic U15s are celebrating after winning the Mid Herts Rural Minors League Division One title with a game left.

The Harlow-based team wrapped up the title with a 6-1 win over their nearest rivals Broomfield at home.

The team (pictured) play their home games at The Link.

Boss Alan Shead said: "This is our second promotion in two years after being promoted from Division Two last year, not bad for only being together for two years.

"We have played 13 games this season, winning 12 and only losing one.

"We are in the League Cup semi-final as well and aiming for the double."

This final takes place on April 10 at The Hive in Barnet.

Shead added: "This is an amazing effort from the team, all from Harlow."

St Mark's seal Essex final win

HAVING been undefeated for three years, St Mark's Year 9 netball team won the Essex Schools' U14 Cup at the Redbridge Sports Centre.

They started their campaign in September, playing five games en route to the championship, convincingly beating Westcliff High School for Girls in the semi-final 35-11.

The team faced Brentwood School in the final.

After the third quarter the score was 19-19.

But they triumphed 26-25 in a tight encounter.

Team captain, Tegan Lintonbon-Baker, said: "We are delighted to have won.

"Even though we went behind at one point we were determined not to give up.

"I am really proud that we pulled together as a team to achieve this victory."

The girls also beat Debden Park 60-17 to be crowned West Essex champions.

'WE WILL FOCUS ON OUR JOBS'

Chapman set for season run-in

by Matthew Biggadike

sportsdesk@hertsexnews.co.uk
HARLOW Town boss Danny Chapman insists that his side will continue to focus on their own performances and not worry about those around them.

The Hawks' two victories over the Easter weekend have nestled them safely in third spot and in the Ryman North play-off places. Town welcome 11th-placed Tilbury this Saturday to the Harlow Arena, with the visitors having lost three games on the bounce.

Chapman said: "They've had a little bit of a dip in recent games, if you look about a month back you'd be saying they were potential play-off candidates.

"However, all we are worried about now is ourselves, we're not really concerned with anyone else and how they play.

"We know that if we are focused and our attitude is right, then we are capable of beating anyone.

"It's second place we want now, the league is done as of a couple of weeks ago as far as I'm concerned.

"What was important today [the 2-0 win at Waltham Abbey on Monday] was that we had a game in hand over the rest of the top five who didn't play, and we took advantage of it.

"There are ten points separating us and Hornchurch in fifth place now, so we know that a couple more wins will guarantee us a play-off spot.

"We want to make sure we can finish in second spot so we can have a home tie in the play-off semi-final which is obviously a comfort."

Promotion

Chapman insists the main aim now is to claim that second place, because automatic promotion is almost mathematically out of reach.

AFC Sudbury seem to be cruising towards the Ryman Premier, currently 11 points ahead of Thurrock who sit in second, with the Hawks a further point back.

But Harlow will be hopeful of a decent end to the campaign and have got star striker Alex Read back in form.

Read has bagged seven goals in his last four games and Chapman says his inspiring form has come at a vital time.

"He went through a bit of a sticky spell earlier in the season by his standards, where he didn't score for a couple of games, but that's six goals in just over a week now for him.

"It's good that he's hit form at this time, and you know that if you give him half a chance he's going to score.

"We've been delighted with his performances recently."

Chapman's side had a superb Easter weekend with two wins.

The Hawks saw off Soham Town Rangers 3-0 on Saturday, before defeating the relegation-threatened Abbots 2-0 on Easter Monday.

And Chapman was full of praise for his side after the Abbey win.

"It was a hard fought win more than anything, we always knew it was going to be like that," Chapman added.

"With Abbey's last two wins against AFC Hornchurch and AFC Sudbury, we knew their tails were going to be up, so it was important that we managed the game in the right way, and thankfully that's what we did"

Double victory gets Hawks flying again

TWO wins over the Easter weekend gave Harlow Town a timely boost in the Ryman North play-off race.

Having gone three games without a win, the double victory put the Hawks back on track and they are now third in the table with five games to go.

The six points started with a 3-0 win over Soham Town Rangers at the Harlow Arena on Saturday.

The first half was an even affair, as both sides had to battle against the wind and rain.

But after the break Harlow upped their tempo and took the game to the visitors.

The hosts took the lead soon into the second period when Syrus Gordon sent a driven cross into the box from the right.

It hit a defender and fell to Junior Dadson, with the winger smashing the ball into the net.

The Hawks had to wait until the 86th minute to double the advantage when a corner reached the back post where Alex Read, with his back to goal, turned and shot into the net.

Complete

In the final minute of injury time, Harlow added a third when Leon Antoine cut the ball back to Read, who tapped in from close range to complete the win.

Read then took his tally up to seven goals in four games in the 2-0 win at Waltham Abbey on Easter Monday.

The first 20 minutes of the game were scrappy, with neither side able to claim the lion's share of possession.

The half-time whistle blew with the score 0-0, but the visitors came out in the second half looking much sharper and subsequently managed to break the deadlock on 58 minutes.

Reid latched on to a through ball by Antoine, tucking in a rebound after his original shot was saved by Abbotts' keeper.

The lead was doubled ten minutes later when Reid brought down a through ball by Fabion Simms before rounding the keeper and tucking it away.

The hosts were given the opportunity to get back into the game on 83 minutes, when Abbey striker Christian Assombalonga was brought down in penalty area by Ibrahima Sonko.

However, Assombalonga missed the resulting penalty.
